About The Brand

About

Solivita is a residential care home reimagining what senior living looks like when it's done with intention. Built for up to six residents in the Otay Lakes community of Southern San Diego, Solivita offers 24/7 personalized care in a home designed to feel like a breath of fresh air. Founded by a former state licensing investigator, every detail is curated to prove that this stage of life can be peaceful, purposeful, and full of connection. It's not a facility. It's a home where aging looks like living.

Mission

At Solivita, we believe that every stage of life deserves to be lived fully, with peace, purpose, and connection.

We bring that belief to life by:

- Providing personalized care in a home designed to feel like a breath of fresh air for up to six Southern California residents.
- Dedicating ourselves to the standard of care our founder spent her career enforcing, where every detail is intentional and nothing is bare-minimum.
- Creating a community where residents are valued, supported, and never alone.

Origin Story

Angelica Medina is the founder of Solivita. She spent her career as an Investigator at the Community Care Licensing Investigations Bureau, a law enforcement role where she responded to priority 1 and 2 elder abuse cases across all of Southern California. She saw what happens when care falls short and knew she could provide the level of care she spent her career enforcing.

Using her eye for detail and her expertise in what it means to provide exceptional care at this stage of life, Angelica created Solivita to be the gold standard of what residential care can look like. A home designed to prove that senior living can be beautiful, dignified, and full of life, where residents feel at home and families feel at ease. Built to the standard she would want for her own loved ones.

The name Solivita means sun and life, chosen to reflect the belief that senior living can be a bright new chapter, full of peace, purpose, and genuine connection.

Values

What we stand for shows up in everything we do. These values are the foundation of how we care, how we talk, and how we show up for our residents and their families every day.

Community

Aging often means isolation. Solivita brings people together through shared meals, daily activities, and genuine connection. No one here is alone. Because where there is community, every day is full of life.

Peace

A calm, restful environment where the pace of life is unhurried and designed to bring comfort. Our home and our team are built to support the daily needs of our residents so they can move through each day with ease. And for families, that same peace extends to knowing that their loved one is cared for, supported, and in good hands every hour of the day.

Intention

Built from a deep understanding of what residential care requires and a vision to reimagine what it could be, Solivita is curated down to the smallest detail. Our six coastal-inspired rooms each have their own character, and every element of the home, from the dedicated care team to the enrichment programming designed around the seasons, the community, and the residents themselves, is selected with the same level of thought and intention. Because when you know what this industry looks like at its worst, you pour everything into making it look like its best.

Purpose

Life at Solivita is designed around more than care. It's designed around living. Through enrichment programming, daily routines, and community activities, residents are given the space and support to stay engaged, connected, and living with purpose.

Belonging

Leaving a home of 50+ years is one of the hardest transitions a person can make. Solivita is designed to make that transition easier by providing a space where residents can thrive in this next chapter of their lives and truly feel at home.

02 Brand Voice

Voice Traits

Warm & Welcoming

We speak the way a trusted person would. Reassuring, approachable, never clinical. Families should feel at ease the moment they interact with us.

Calm & Serene

Our tone reflects our environment. Unhurried, grounded, warm. We communicate with the same peace we want our residents to feel every day.

Light & Optimistic

The sol in Solivita is the sunrise. Our language romanticizes this stage of life and embraces it as an opportunity to live fully, with brightness, purpose, and joy.

Genuine & Personal

We sound like real people. Honest, direct, human. Our founder's background is the reason this home exists, and that sincerity comes through in everything we say.

Quietly Elevated

We let our quality speak for itself. The care, the environment, and the details tell the story.

Primary Logo

The Solivita primary logo captures the brand's full identity in one mark. The sun resting behind the wave within the O reflects the balance between warmth and steady calm that defines the Solivita experience. The flowing wave carries movement and grace across the wordmark, while "ASSISTED LIVING" is set beneath to ensure immediate clarity in what the brand offers and who it serves.

- ✓ Don't stretch
- ✓ Don't add shadows
- ✓ Don't change colors

Secondary Logo

The stacked logo splits "SOL" and "VITA" — sun and life — across two lines, reinforcing the meaning behind the name. Its compact, vertical format carries the same elegance as the primary mark in tighter spaces. Ideal for signage, welcome materials, and printed collateral where presence matters but space is limited.

Submark

The SV monogram distills the Solivita identity into two intertwined initials. The letterforms lean into each other, reflecting the connection and belonging the brand is built on. Designed for small-scale applications like profile icons, favicons, and branded stamps where the full wordmark wouldn't read clearly.

Logo Mark

The wave is the emotional signature of the Solivita brand. Its flowing form represents the coastal calm of the Otay Lakes community and the gentle rhythm of aging with dignity. As a standalone accent, it adds warmth to patterns, textures, and environmental details without demanding attention.
